sult of to-morrow's race, Sir Thomas said:

"I am more confident of winning than over, and my confidence is shared by every man on the fleet and other admirers of the Shamrock III. Designer life is theroughly satisfied with the tuning up that Shamrock III. Mas received and Copiain Wrings is confident."

In reply to a question whether or not there was any basis for suspicion that the challenger had not been permitted to show all her speed in her trials with Shamfock I., Sir Thomas said: "Them never was any jeckeying. I do not consider it an honest way of seiting people to bet their morey. Except in a few cases when Mr. Fife wanted to sail alongside of Shamrock I, we have always done the best we could, and I have always wanted to see her do her best."

Sir Thomas added joidingly "Shamrock III. will win the first race by other six or seven mindics. I'm not quite certain which; and the second race by four minutes and a half. You will have to ask me about the, third race later."

A flood of letters, telegrams and erfole-brams reached the Earth to-day from all parts of the world, bringing wishes for the spiccess of Sir Thomas and Shamrock III. One capliegram came from Lagos, Honfugal, from Lord Charles Beresford, saying that all the officers and men of the Channel fleet sent hearty good wishes' and hoped to hear that Shamrock III. Ind won by a length.

NEWPORT, R. I., August 19.—The American lawn tennis championship in doubles was won to-day for a second time by R. S. and H. I. Doherty, the farmous British team, who defeated Kreigh Collins and L. II. Waidner, the American champions, in straight sets—7-5, B-8, G-3.

Collins and Waidner were the players from whom the Dohertys won the champienship last year, but to-day's contest was much more notable than the former. Both pairs showed wonderful improvement over any previous form, and while the Americans were stronger and more steady and accurate than during the last season, the Englishmen were able not only to show equal skill, but to surpass even the best that their opponents could ofter.

EAN FRANCISCO, CALL, August 19.—
Ten thousand survivors of the Civil Warpassed in review to-day, marching to the martial tunes that inspired them to endeavor forty years ago, Above the national colors, borne by cevry marcher, proudly floated torn and tattered fags. These, with empty sleeves and limping gait, were cloquent reminders of the sorrow and glory of war. Unlike the pande of yesterday, with the quick marching line of youth, this procession was the measured and steady tread of age. As the different divisions marched along waves of sentiment passed over marchers and spectators. There were many still vigorous in line, but they waited for their weaker comrades, and the column halted often on its two-mile course.

In the long line were men from overy corner of the nation, Of all the States, California excepted, the one that had the largest number in line was Illinois, but Ohio was a close second.

MR. HILL'S SPECH.

Mr. Hill, in opening, discussed "Mob law vergul due process of law." He said: Mob violence is not rendered less objectionable aven if it be true, as frequently asserted, that unless it shall interpose its strong arm, the guilty may escape punishment through a lax administration of the criminal law, or indifference to its erdection on the part of the people themselves. The very excuss offered is a reflection on the community itself, where the crime has been, committed, and the remedy lies, not in the people themselves overriding the law, but in the people upholding and exforcing the law and in an appeal to their particular, their good sanse, their mante love of justice and respect for order; qualities which are seldom if ever evoked in vain. We cannot permit this government to become a mobocracy, which acts upon impluse, feels no restraint and recognizes no appeal from its hasty prejudgment. Crimes which can only be punished by, such irresponsible tribunals as moba might as well not be punished at all, because in the cnd the remedy will be found to be worse than the disease. The duly of every American citizen which every in the cnd the remedy will be found to be worse than the disease. The duly of every American citizen whe loves his country and its free institutions, is plain. He should assist in the creation of a healthy public sentiment, which should demand that no person demand therefor except under due process of institutions, and by lawful offichals and after a trial before a court and jury as provided by the wise and beneficent provisions of our Federal Constitution, and these vital provisions so essential to the public welfare, must be respected in every part of our domain, and wherever cut American flag shall permanently float; and every must be respected in very part of our domain, and wherever white or black, native of foreign must be presented in his lige and liberty.

"There is a chorus of assertion, constantly roterated, that the country at the present time is enjoying a period of much prosperity, yet there are grave reasons for doubting the entire correctness of the statement. It is conceded that many public works are in progress of construction and many important enterprises are in process of development, but the fact must be borne in mind that most of these schemes are being floated upon borrowed capital—that the future is being largely mortgaged— and that profits to hereafter accrue and dividends to be hereafter declared are already being anticipated, and there is no adherence to the good old-fashioned and safe ence to the good old-fashioned and safe public under the premise of profits—ever earned and not likely to be earned until a financial reaction has set in, which has disturbed public confidence, inaugurated a falling market and temporarily at loost, even, if not for some time to come, prevented safe financial investments; and the end is not vet.

Neither the common nor the preferred stock of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company made any gains on the stock market yestorday, as some had anticipated. On the contrary, the stock closed at exactly the same figure on the common stock yestorday as the day before, while the preferred yesterday lost two points compared with the closing quotations of the day before.

There are unquestionably many of the stockholders who are disappointed in the failure of the directors to declare the susual quarterly dividiend, for there were not a few who had hoped that this accition would be taken. Altogether, the situation is accepted philosophically, and renowed confidence in the equity recovery of the stock quotations of some months ago is felt since the promulgation of the financial statement on Vednesday. The stock did not lose anything in value as a result of the failure to declars a didend, and the announcement of the stock and the dividend under provaling conditions, even declaring that it yould have been hurtful not to have done so. The showing of business done and of prospects for the future give substantial to company. It is confidently expected that the stock will rise in value in the next few days.

MR. WISE AND THE BOX A Mistaken Impression as to His Name

ter.

The attitude of indifference hitherto assumed by the Turkish oficials towards Russia's action is giving way to one of marked concern. The Porte fears that Russia contemplates making still more important demands than contained in the recent note of M. Zinoviefi, the Russian ambassador, such as the appointment of a Christian governor-general of Macedonia. This idea, however, does not find support in diplomatic quarters, where the conviction prevails that Dussia is working in full agreement with Austria.

The Russian demands on Turkoy, growing out of the recent murder of the Russian consul at Monastir, were formally presented at the Yildiz palace to-day.

Notwithstanding the warning which Russian addressed to the Bulgarian government, it is generally believed here that the Russian naval demonstration in Turkish waters will dangerously encourage the Macedonians, who, it is agserted, will interpret Russia's action as being the first step towards intervention in their behalf.

The insubordination of the Turkish troops is regarded as being one of the greatest dangers of the present Balkan crisis. The lack of discipline among the soldiers is marked.

The ambassadors of the Powers have again drawn the earnest attention of the Porte to the fears of massacres at Salonica, and have demanded the adoption of immediate and effective measures for the protection of the foreign consulates and the Subjects of the various powers. Having Figured.

Because of the great interest taken by Mr. Wise in the last horse show, the management set aside a box for the next exhibition and entered it in the name of Mrs. Wise.
